Community Garden News

It's transition time in the garden. Hopefully the okra, pepper and bean plants will bounce back following the recent rains and temperature drop to produce through October. In the meantime, we will start planting our cool weather crops. First to go in the ground will be root crop seeds like carrots, radishes and beets, followed by small transplants of cilantro, broccoli, cabbage and cauliflower. We'll also be seeding a cover crop like fava beans, crimson clover or Austrian winter peas in a few of the beds to help improve soil health for next year.

Outside of the garden, we're busy preparing a variety of seed packets from plants grown in the garden to sell at the Library's upcoming Fall Yard Sale.

Anyone interested in helping in the garden please text Louisa at 713-382-4017 for more information.

Fresh Produce available on Saturday

Donations are appreciated to help pay for the costs associated with planting, harvesting and maintaining the garden.

She possessed a stunning beauty. She also possessed a stunning mind. Could the world handle both? Her beauty almost certainly saved her from the rising Nazi party and led to marriage with an Austrian arms dealer. Underestimated in everything else, she overheard the Third Reich's plans while at her husband's side, understanding more than anyone would guess. She devised a plan to flee in disguise from their castle, and the whirlwind escape landed her in Hollywood. She became Hedy Lamarr, screen star. But she kept a secret more shocking than her heritage or her marriage: she was a scientist. And she knew a few secrets about the enemy. She had an idea that might help the country fight the Nazis...if anyone would listen to her.

A powerful novel based on the incredible true story of the glamour icon and scientist whose groundbreaking invention revolutionized modern communication, The Only Woman in the Room is a masterpiece.
